

RESTAURANTS

In 2013 there was a deepening decline in the full-service restaurant and delivery segments, in contrast to an up-turn in the counter service segment.

The loss of liquidity, lower confidence levels and an unemployment rate that is still very high all contributed to consumer retrenchment, especially in the higher average revenue segments.

Despite these constraints, this segment recorded turnover of 65.11 million euros.

